

Viducate is about video in education and the best starting point is our best practise video gallery . The gallery contains selected material linked with the themes of creativity, active citizenship and intercultural communication. It also offers video documenting the project and interviews with partners.

The gallery provides also further pedagogical background information - who has produced the video, what is behind it and how can it be transferred to other educational sectors or learning environments.

Take your time and explore what we have uploaded there and let us know if you have something you would like to see included there.
